TRACK ELEVATION
AGAIN DEFERRED

Meeting to be Held Aug. 15
When Perfected Plans
Will be Presented.

Negotiations between the city and the railroads interested in the elevation of the New York Central tracks from Michigan st. to Chapin st., have been deferred for two weeks. The board of works having rescinded the resolution which provided for the elevation at Tuesday morning's meeting of that body.

At that time the board was ordered to prepare a new resolution which will provide for the crossings and connections of the Grand Trunk and Vandalia railroads with the New York Central.

Notices will be sent to representatives of the New York Central, Vandalia and Grand Trunk railroads to attend the meeting of the board of works on Aug. 15. It is expected that the new resolution will be discussed.

H. B. Reinsagen, principal assistant engineer of the New York Central lines, and Atty. Schuyler Hubbell and Vernon W. Van Fleet represented the New York Central railroad at the meeting of the board to show that it would be necessary to make some provision for making the connections with the Grand Trunk and Vandalia railroads.

May Confer With Commission.
At Tuesday morning's meeting, Mr. Reinsagen said that it might be necessary to do away with the Vandalia connection at Main st. It was his opinion that it would be necessary to take the matter up with the public utilities commission, which has supervision over connecting tracks between railroads.

According to Mr. Reinsagen, the New York Central officials of the South Bend, St. Joseph and Southern railway, a line in the south part of the city, whose tracks the New York Central uses to make deliveries to certain factories. He said that at present there was a six-months' agreement between the two companies, but it would be necessary to make different arrangements if the tracks are to be elevated.

Tentative plans for the track elevation place the site of the New York Central depot, which will have to be erected, a short distance east of its present location. Mr. Reinsagen said Tuesday morning that it was possible that the subway in the depot would be similar to those in the Michigan Central depot in Detroit.

TO PLACE AN ADDITION IN SOUTHEAST PART OF CITY ON MARKET

Twenty acres, located within the city limits, between Carroll and High sts., on both sides of Haney av., will be placed on the local real estate market within the next month by the real estate firm of Whitcomb & Keller. This addition, known as the Wenger-Kreighbaum properties, has a frontage of four blocks on the new Indiana av. pavement.

Consummation of the deal which led up to the presentation of this property, was announced in realty circles late last week. Immediately after the signing of contracts, L. C. Whitcomb of the firm of Whitcomb & Keller, left for Fort Wayne to consult Lee J. Nide, president of the Indiana Real Estate association, as to the best manner of placing the addition on the market.

The new plat will be known as the Indiana av. addition, and will be thoroughly restricted as to buildings and property lines. Already contracts for several new homes have been let, and some are under process of construction.

J. H. Kelsey, who acted as agent for Mr. Wenger's property, is now connected with Whitcomb & Keller, and will assume the duties of sales agent for the new addition. His offices are now located in the Farmers' Trust building. Mr. Kelsey plans pushing grading and curbing, so that the addition can be placed on the market the latter part of August.

FOUND NOT GUILTY ON PROVOKE CHARGE

William Kalmorgan, 2619 Grace st., was found not guilty of a provoke charge made by Joseph Levy, a store keeper, of 2208 Linden av., by Judge Pyle Tuesday morning in police court.

Levy charged that Kalmorgan tried to pick trouble with him over a bill of $5.44 which Kalmorgan claimed had been paid and which Levy claimed was still due.

Put on the witness, Levy said that he was not angry at the time of the trouble and that Kalmorgan had not threatened to strike him but had called him a "crook," a "dead beat," and other names which he was "ashamed to say in the court room." His wife and two witnesses testified in his behalf. Kalmorgan, his son-in-law, and two more witnesses who were present, testified that Kalmorgan had made no threats against Levy.

Buczkowski said that he had subpoenaed nine witnesses at the institution of the complainant, and upon examination all had told him that Mrs. Powicki had not used any unbecoming language or said anything provoking to Andrysiak. Andrysiak, as the neighborhood was continually in trouble, however, Pros. Montgomery wanted the wrangle aired out. It was, and Acting Judge Pyle dismissed it for lack of evidence.

STORIES OF CARRANZA'S
RETIREMENT PREMATURE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Gen. Carranza will not retire as "first chief" and provisional president of Mexico until after the new Mexican congress has been elected. This later action must be the first step toward the restoration of constitutional government.

All of the information reaching this city from Mexico City indicates that the stories that Carranza plans to quit at once, in order to be a candidate for president, are premature. Hope for a settlement in the immediate future of the present difficulties between Mexico and the United States is diminishing here.

GERMANY WILL NOT NEED RELIEF AFTER FIRST OF OCTOBER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—In a formal reply to Pres. Wilson's message to the rulers of the warring European nations, pleading for relief for starving Poland, the German government states that after October 1, relief measures will not be needed. Germany declares that the prospects for good harvests are so favorable that it is certain there will be plenty of food for the civilian population.

Germany places entire blame on Great Britain for the failure of food supplies from the United States to reach Poland. Great Britain's "unfounded and impracticable conditions" held up the relief, it is alleged.

SPANISH WOMAN SOUGHT
AS LEADER OF BANDITS

Ignacio garrison came to the border line and took part in the shooting. The rangers did not drop the search for a moment.

"We know for a certainty that there are many bandits living in these villages," said Sgt. Finley of the rangers, to the International News Service correspondent, who accompanied the rangers in their search of the villages. "But of course, it is difficult to prove anything against them. In fact, I am sure that I know the man who warned the bandits that we were after them. But he has managed to keep from arrest."

Arrivals from the Kraft-Fulker mine, across the border—where bandits have made three raids in as many weeks—declared that more than a 100 outlaws were on the Mexican side awaiting another opportunity to cross the border. Carranza officials gave the same report.

As each village was searched every precaution was taken to prevent a repetition of the trap at the Sepulchro hut. Soldiers and rangers surrounded each place and "covered" it while the rangers entered and searched the premises.

BUSTED MONEY OLIGARCHY

The Republican party—in control for forty years of our nation—of all life—either did not have the ability or the courage or the desire to remedy this brutal system that looted the money of a nation in the control of this heartless group of men. The democratic party took control of this nation, and under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, met this great problem.

We took the money control out of the hands of the oligarchy; we lodged its control in the hands of the government and created the federal reserve banks of the country. We restored the finances of the great people of this nation upon what they owe, and not upon what the oligarchy owes.

U-BOAT MAKES A FALSE START

Pilot Called and Harbor is Dragged For Mines But Ship Waits.

International News Service: BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 1.—Once more the German merchant submarine Deutschland today failed to start on her return trip across the Atlantic. After an "off again, on again" performance that kept Baltimore harbor in a turmoil of excitement for two hours, elaborate preparations to move the Deutschland out of her berth were abandoned, her large barricade was again sealed up, and another false start had been made.

Early today the tug Timmins and Efer opened up the log boom about the Deutschland and swung out into the channel with a heavy wire drag between them. Three times they dragged the river between the dock and the deep channel in the center of the stream, but the drag struck nothing.

Meantime the revenue tug Wissikan and Baltimore police boat Lannan had steamed up the river and they both lay to off the Deutschland's pier, ready to insure a clear channel and a fair start for the submarine. After half an hour of jockeying, the Timmins drew up inside the log boom around the Deutschland and signalled for the two official boats. They steamed inside, and after 15 minutes of billow house conferences both moved out into the stream and returned to their piers, several miles away. The Timmins once more sewed up the log boom and the excitement was over.

Capt. Owen Coleman, expert Chesapeake bay pilot, was ordered aboard the Deutschland today for the trip down the bay.

International News Service: NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The second German super-submarine merchant vessel, the Bremen, is due to reach American shores early Thursday morning. This announcement was made today by the same agents that announced the coming of the Deutschland. According to their statements, after keeping constantly in touch with the German submarine, trans-Atlantic service situation, the Bremen did not leave the port of Bremen until after the arrival of her sister submarine, the Deutschland, at Baltimore.

HUGHES FAVORS
AN AMENDMENT
FOR SUFFRAGE

our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedly condemn them and support every effort for their suppression."

The nominee assailed the administration for its "direction of diplomatic intercourse" from the beginning, declaring that where there should have been conspicuous strength and expertise there had been weakness and ineptness. He cited San Domingo as an instance where appointments had gone to "deserving democrats," and to the failure to continue Ambassador Herriek at his post in Paris, after the war had started as "a lamentable sacrifice of international repute."

Endorses Woman Suffrage.
"I endorse the declaration in the platform in favor of woman suffrage," Mr. Hughes declared. And he added:

"Opposition may delay, but in my judgment cannot defeat this movement. . . . I favor the vote for women."

One fourth of the speech was devoted to Mexico. Step after step taken by the administration with respect to Mexico was assailed from the days of Huerta to the note sent the de facto government by the state department on June 29 last, part of which was quoted in the speech. The seizure of Vera Cruz, the nominee said, "was war, of course."

"Later we retired from Vera Cruz," he continued, "giving up this noble warfare. Recently the naked truth was admitted by a cabinet officer. We are now informed that we did not go to Vera Cruz to force Huerta to salute the flag. We are told that we went there to 'show Mexico that we were in earnest in our demand that Huerta must go.'"

No Aggressive Policy.
America, Mr. Hughes continued, had no policy of aggression toward Mexico, no desire for any part of her territory, but wished her to have peace, stability and prosperity.

"The conduct of the administration had created difficulties we shall have to surmount," he said. "We demand from Mexico, the protection of the lives and property of our citizens and the security of our border from depredations."

Self-protecting American rights abroad had not been accomplished, Mr. Hughes said, by the administration. There had been "brave words in a series of notes, but what does it avail, to use some of the strongest words known to diplomacy, if ambassadors can receive the impression that the words are not to be taken seriously?"

The nominee reiterated his declaration that had this government left no doubt that it meant to hold Germany to "strict accountability," there would have been no loss of life on the Lusitania.

U. S. Shockingly Unprepared.
Discussing preparedness, Mr. Hughes said it was apparent that the United States was "shockingly unprepared."

"The administration has failed to discharge its responsibilities," Mr. Hughes continued. "Apparently, it is now seeking to meet political exigencies by its naval program. But it has imposed on the country an incompetent naval administration."

"We demand adequate protection on both our western and eastern coasts. We demand thoroughness and efficiency in both arms of the service. It seems to me plain that our regular army is too small. We are too great a country to require of our citizens who are engaged in peaceful vocations the sort of military service to which they are now called."

Charges Prosperity to War.
"We are living in a fool's paradise," he said, a prosperity brought about by the abnormal conditions of war. For the protection of "an energized Europe," Mr. Hughes said it was plain that "we must have protective, upbuilding policies." Other measures, too, should be applied, he said, notably the upbuilding of a merchant marine.

To make peace lasting and effective when the present war shall end, Mr. Hughes advocated the formation of an international tribunal to dispose of controversies of a justifiable sort, backed by the cooperation of the nations to prevent war before peaceful methods of adjustment end.

Says Fiscal Reform Needed.
Mr. Hughes also declared "for the conservation of just interests of labor," for conservation of national resources and for a national budget.

"Our opponents promised economy but they have shown a reckless extravagance. It is time we had fiscal reform."

Mr. Hughes closed with an endorsement of the republican platform, adopted by the national convention and a formal acceptance of the nomination.

The large audience which crowded Carnegie hall cheered for several minutes when Mr. Hughes appeared shortly after 8 o'clock.

The nominee, recognizing Theodore Roosevelt in one of the boxes, waved to him and Col. Roosevelt clapped his hands in acknowledgment.
